Where Does a New Paragraph Start?

This report should be three paragraphs. Start a new paragraph when the main idea changes. Mark the 2 places with ¶.

Name: _____ Date: _____

Tip

- Ask "What is this part about?" When the answer changes, a new paragraph starts.

Sharks are some of the oldest animals on Earth. They lived even before the dinosaurs. Today there are more than 500 kinds of sharks. Sharks have amazing senses. They can smell a tiny bit of blood from far away. They can also feel fish moving in the water. Many kinds of sharks are in danger. People catch too many of them. We can help by learning about sharks and keeping the oceans clean.

Paragraph 1 main idea

Paragraph 2 main idea

Paragraph 3 main idea

Art © Kevin Coulston